Portfolio Manager Monthly Comment

The fund posted a decline of 3.4% (NAV to NAV; after all costs). The Fund return was in line with the MSCI World, which declined by 3.5%.

The surge since the 19th March has been the quickest recovery rally in global equities since the global financial crisis and the market was due for a reversion after a significant rally in August. The global economy is in recovery mode while Covid-19 related uncertainty remains prevalent. Emerging markets declined by only 1.6%, significantly outperforming developed market equities in September and still lagging year to date. The fund lagged the broader market with a decline of 4.3% (NAV to NAV; after all costs). On a one-year basis, the Fund's performance lag is among our worst one-year periods since inception. It is never pleasant to lag the market and we are disappointed with the near-term investment performance. The Fund return is a outcome of our stock selection and our disappointment is overwhelmed by our conviction that we are acting prudently. We are well aware of the reasons for the performance lag and we maintain our conviction, based on the significant undervaluation of our underlying portfolio.

Our equities remain slightly out of sync with the broader market in September. Our typical selection of owner managed equities, has a natural bias towards Consumer cyclicals, Industrials and Diversified Financials. In September, our exposure to an eclectic group of Consumer Discretionary stocks contributed positively. The majority of our stocks, particularly Investment holding companies and Industrial conglomerates declined more than the market, despite equally improving fundamentals and strong balance sheets. Lack of exposure to Technology was the biggest detractor.

The Fund is flexible and we have maintained a higher cash weighting in recent months. In March, high cash mitigated the decline in the majority of our stocks but cash became a drag since April and particularly in July and August. High liquidity enabled the Fund to preserve capital and dampen volatility, in a large part of the underlying portfolio. Over the past year, markets have experienced three deep corrections, in May and August of last year and in the Corona Crisis during the first quarter of 2020. The decline in September was a mild version of previous corrections and in similar fashion, the Fund held up well due to above-average liquidity. The fund has low direct EM exposure, which detracted mildly in September, as the MSCI EM outperformed developed market equities.

Our stocks have fortress balance sheets and cheaper valuations, than the broader market. The Owner-Manager theme remains widely underestimated and unappreciated, except for a narrow group of glamour tech stocks, that are currently buoyed by a different theme and have higher valuations than we are prepared to accept.

We are currently witnessing the biggest disconnect between real-economy fundamentals and public equity markets. We are anticipating headwinds for broader equity markets. For that reason, the Fund retains an above-average cash weighting. We have deployed cash into the market sell-off, but only marginally. The overwhelming signal from our underlying owner managers is one of conservatism and continued caution. The emphasis has changed to surviving the current crisis and emerging stronger once the recovery is underway.

Overall positioning remains virtually unchanged. We remain ready to deploy cash as market opportunities unfold.

Counterpoint Global Owner Managed Flexible Fund

A sub-fund of the Sanlam Global Funds plc

Minimum Disclosure Document - 30 September 2020

Risk Profile

This fund is relatively high risk in relation to other asset classes due to its equity based investment approach and the potential for emerging and frontier markets exposure, it may be affected by uncertainties such as international political developments and changes in governmental policy or taxation. Irish domestic law implementing EU and United Nations sanctions may limit or prohibit investment in certain markets and this may have an adverse impact on the operations of the Fund. Investing in international companies means that currency exchange rate fluctuations will have an impact on the Fund returns. Foreign currency shortages in some markets could reduce the fund's ability to repatriate funds. The investment manager aims to reduce the overall risk by their value and fundamental stance. Other risks are Settlement and Clearing Risk, Political Custody Risk, Legal Risk, Efficient Portfolio Management Risk, Reinvestment of Cash Collateral Risk And Securities Lending Risk. Further information regarding risk can be obtained by reference to the Prospectus and Supplement.

Glossary Terms

Annualised total returns

Annualised return is the weighted average compound growth rate over the period measured.

Capital growth

Capital growth is the profit made on an investment, measured by the increase in its market value over the invested amount or cost price. It is also called capital appreciation.

Equities

Equities are shares that represent an institution's or individual's ownership in a listed company. These shares are also the "vehicle" through which they are able to "share" in the profits made by that company. As the company grows, and the expectation of improved profits increases, the market price of the share will increase which translates into a capital gain for the shareholder. Similarly, negative sentiment about the company will result in the share price falling.

Shares / equities are usually considered to have the potential for the highest return of all the investment classes but also have the highest level of risk i.e. share investments have the most volatile returns over the short term. An investment in equities should be viewed with a 7 to 10 year horizon.

Undervalued equity stocks (Value investing approach)

This is a strategy of selecting shares that trade for less than their intrinsic values. Value investors actively seek stocks that they believe the market has undervalued. They believe the market overreacts to good and bad news, resulting in stock price movements that do not correspond with the company's actual long-term fundamentals. The result is an opportunity for value investors to profit by buying when the price is deflated.

Securities

A general term for shares, bonds, money market instruments and debentures.

Collective investment scheme (CIS)

Collective investment schemes (also called unit trusts) are portfolios of assets such as equities, bonds, cash and listed property, in which investors can buy units. They allow private investors to pool their money together into a single fund, thus spreading their risk across a range of investments, getting the benefit of professional fund management, and reducing their costs.

Total Expense Ratio (TER)

This is the total costs associated with managing and operating an investment administration, financial planning and servicing fees). These costs consist primarily of management fees and additional expenses such as trading fees, legal fees, auditor fees and other operational expenses. The total cost of the fund is divided by the fund's total assets under management to arrive at a percentage amount, which represents the TER.

Standard deviation

Standard deviation (also called monthly volatility) is a measure of how much returns on an investment change from month to month. It is typically used by investors to gauge the amount of expected volatility in an investment.
